Clinical Trial Magnifier Limited

Introducing the Active Clinical Investigator (ACI) Data Set. A new Data Set that provides the most comprehensive and updated information about US clinical investigators that currently – since 2006 – have been or are involved in US FDA overseen clinical trials.

Uniqueness of the ACI data base: The ACI Data Set is the only such Data Set that is updated monthly with information about new FDA investigators being active in the US. Every year about 2,600 novice US FDA investigators are added into the US FDA Bioresearch Monitoring Information System (BMIS). This corresponds to about 220 new entries every month.

In addition, the ACI Data Set maintains updated on the constant relocation of US investigators. Within a year a significant portion the US FDA investigators are relocated within a State or have moved to another State. The ACI Data Set is the only clinical investigator Data Set that tracks this rapid change of addresses of US FDA investigators on a monthly basis.

The ACI Data Set has been merged with the US FDA Clinical Investigator Inspection List providing information on the number of inspections and the inspection outcome for each investigator; 2,900 inspections for 2,000 investigators with 44.1% “No Action Indicated (NAI)” as inspection outcome.

The BMIS Data Set includes the following restricted information about the clinical investigator: (1) full name, (2) full address, and (3) the date when the information was registered for each participating clinical trial. In addition, the ACI Data Set includes (4) area of specialty, (5) changes of address, (6) phone number, (7) gender, (8) years from graduation and (9) US FDA inspection outcome.

Addressing Critical Needs: The ACI Data Set is the only commercial available Data Set that offers a rapid and efficient method to identify active US clinical investigators by using several unique search terms such as specialty, trial experiences, years from graduation and US inspection outcome in addition to institution/clinic, state and city.

The ACI Data Set is designed for the pharmaceutical, biotech, medical device industry, contract research industries and other commercial and non-commercial entities that would like to know more about the exact contact details of active US clinical investigators. It offers the industry a tool for an efficient search and identification of active clinical investigators for industry-sponsored clinical trials.

The ACI Data Set is user-friendly and is transferred electronically as an Excel file on a monthly basis. This information can easily be integrated into other existing data sets.

Annum subscription fees: The annual subscription can apply either for the Full Data Set or a Sub-set of one or several specialist areas and/or a selection of US States. The subscription fee includes 12 updated Data Sets annually.
